

Corporate partner, Bradley Kruger, will be in attendance at AIMA's Digital Assets Conference held in New York. The conference brings together digital asset professionals to master the 'how' of institutional investment in that space. If you would like to connect with Bradley at the event, please reach out.