

This event will examine the use of custodians, which can provide challenges to investors and to the advisers that they turn to for estate planning advice.

Determining what assets are the subject of the estate plan and how succession can be guaranteed involves understanding the contractual relationships and the legal consequences of fraud perpetrated on the custodian.

During this presentation, the panel will:

- 1) Identify the ways in which crypto-value can be held and their legal consequences;
- 2) Examine the planning of an estate that includes crypto-value;
- 3) Analyse the consequences of fraud perpetrated on custodians and any resulting insolvency

Ogier Ireland Partner Larry Fenelon will be speaking on the webinar.
