

Katherine Neal and Sophie Denman will be attending the Global Elite Private Client Minds of the Future Conference.

The event will look to the horizon of the private wealth sector. With a mixture of the best acknowledged private wealth lawyers in the profession and our brightest rising stars we will come together to try to predict where the profession is going: in our firms, in our practice, and in the wider context of the global economy.