

2024 began with positive hints from global headlines that inflation may be setting the trajectory for a more resilient world economy and pathway towards growth. Yet, world conflicts and geopolitical tensions remain high, leaving businesses and families with heightened agility and sensitive to react to or even foresee the changes to stay ahead of the curve. This year's STEP Asia Conference will focus on the depth and breadth of topics that impact the planning strategies for families.

Ogier Partners Anthony Partridge and Oliver Payne will be attending the conference. Please contact them directly if you would like to connect at the event.
