

ESG is a global market trend that is hard not to notice. It is firmly on the radar of most companies, employees, advisors and regulators. By 2024, it has likely been a topic of discussion in most corporate boardrooms, with ESG strategies being implemented in organisations across the world due to investor, customer and regulator expectations.

The growth of ESG has resulted in global legislative change, heightened regulatory obligations, and increased contractual/corporate risks. The outcome of this change is a steady rise in "ESG" related disputes across various jurisdictions.

Our panel including Maria Edgeworth (Partner - Ogier); Mark Lim (Partner - Lewis Silken LLP); Edward Davies KC (Erskine Chambers); Jamie Cole (Sustainability Consultant - CBRE) will discuss recent cases and the types of ESG disputes anticipated. We will also get specific insights into the Real Estate sector where ESG changes are underway and horizon scan the disputes that may arise in the future.

The webinar will qualify for CPD credits. Please get in touch after the webinar if a CPD certificate is required.
