Background and experience

Tiffany's wide-ranging practice includes representing financial institutions and organisations advising on the British Virgin Islands law aspects of banking, finance and restructuring transactions.

Tiffany also covers all aspects of BVI funds formation and frequently advises investment managers, funds and financial services providers on BVI legal and regulatory matters.

Tiffany is also part of Ogier's multi-disciplinary Restructuring and Insolvency team, with experience in refinancings, corporate restructuring and reorganisations and member and creditor schemes of arrangement. Her achievements include working on a BVI scheme of arrangement for a debt restructuring, which formed part of a US$1.5 billion global restructuring for a Brazilian-headquartered oil and gas drilling group.

Before joining Ogier in 2017, Tiffany was part of the Corporate team at Browne Jacobson in Birmingham. Tiffany is a law graduate of the University of Birmingham and completed her Legal Practice Course at the University of Law. She is a member of the Law Society of England and Wales and qualified as an English Solicitor in 2016. She was also admitted as a British Virgin Islands legal practitioner in 2019.
