

Recognition for Ogier partners in ALB's top ten offshore lawyers list

News - 17/05/2018

Ogier's Nicholas Plowman has been named one of the top ten offshore lawyers in Asia for the third year in a row by Asian Legal Business.

The list also cites client praise for partner Anthony Oakes saying: "I would want him on all of my deals which have an offshore element."

ALB's top ten offshore list is compiled from more than 150 client reviews of lawyers from around Asia, and by ALB's independent editorial team.

Nicholas - the practice partner of Ogier's Hong Kong team, which celebrated its tenth anniversary last year - is an investment funds specialist whose clients include some of the best known names in venture capital and private equity.

He told ALB: "2017 was another year of growth for Ogier in Hong Kong, with our expanding office now being a total of 33 qualified lawyers. Revenues have hit an all-time high, with 2017 the third-straight year of double-digit growth."

Anthony, who heads Ogier's Finance practice in Asia, was included in the "special mentions" category, which cited client feedback saying: "It is always a pleasure to work with Tony, and I would want him on all of my deals which have an offshore element.", and another saying "Excellent, accommodating and able to provide seamless, beyond-the-expected service as routine. Very user-friendly and available to provide straightforward advice around the clock."

Nicholas said: "All independent feedback and recognition for our growth and success is very welcome, and especially when it comes from a source as widely recognised and respected as ALB.

"It should go without saying that praise for partners from our investment funds and finance teams reflects not just on individuals, but on the wider team including associates and legal managers, and the successful culture of the entire firm."
