

Ogier promotes three new partners in Banking and Dispute Resolution teams

News - 01/02/2022

All three became partners of the firm on 1 February having progressed through Ogier's partner development programme.

"It's been another outstanding year for our Dispute Resolution and Banking and Finance teams in Jersey, which have retained their top tier rankings both in the Legal 500 and Chambers UK guides. These are three exceptional lawyers who have made significant contributions to the continued growth and success of these teams, and to the culture and achievements of Ogier in Jersey. I'm delighted to welcome them to the partnership," said Jersey practice partner Raulin Amy.

James Angus has been named one of the UK's and Channel Islands' Top 35 Under 35 by e-privateclient for the past three years, and is ranked as a Rising Star in Legal 500, and in Chambers UK. He is an experienced disputes lawyer and courtroom advocate. He advises, and represents in court, many of the leading trust companies and financial institutions in Jersey, as well as having strong institutional client relationships in both London and Dublin.

A seasoned litigator in commercial and chancery matters, James brings his significant cross-border insolvency/restructuring experience to bear as part of Ogier's Restructuring and Corporate Recovery team, as well as having a particular specialism in contentious cross-border estates work.

James Lydeard has broad experience across banking and finance and corporate matters, with particular expertise in fund, leveraged and acquisition finance and acts for a variety clients including financial institutions, sponsors and corporates. With a background in the City, and having worked in our Cayman Islands office, James has built a strong banking and finance practice, particularly in fund finance and leveraged finance.

In 2021, James was selected to be part of Jersey's #BuildBackBetter initiative which seeks to identify the island's next generation of sustainable finance leaders.

Kate McCaffrey has been named a Rising Star by Legal 500 and won the Rising Star: Channel Islands Award at the inaugural Euromoney Legal Media Group Europe Awards. Kate specialises in corporate, finance and restructuring matters with a particular emphasis on real estate finance, fund finance and complex debt restructuring. She is a member of Ogier's Restructuring and Corporate Recovery team. In addition to acting for banks, financial institutions and alternative lenders, Kate acts for a variety of borrower structures. She also has a background in the City and has built a strong banking and finance practice in real estate finance and fund finance.
