

Permissionless promises to gather the most forward-thinking industry names to discuss topics ranging from the metaverse, to NFTs and gaming, the future of finance and institutional adoption, and more. The conference has been organised into three separate tracks to serve a diverse mix of builders, developers, artists, gamers and investors.

Ogier Partner Bradley Kruger will be attending along with Senior Associate Michael Robinson.

If you would like to connect with Bradley and Michael, please do so via the contact details on the right.