

European real estate – Supporting Korean investors

Korean investment into European real estate has seen sustained interest during 2020, with deals being done despite the significant impact of COVID-19.

Ogier's international legal and corporate administration teams have assisted Korean clients with a significant proportion of this recent cross-border activity, setting itself apart as the 'go to' offshore law firm for Korean investors.

With this experience comes a comprehensive understanding of Korean investors' structuring requirements and what they expect of their appointed European advisors.
