Who we are

Our team's strength lies in the quality, depth and breadth of our lawyers' experience and expertise.

Ogier's Trusts Advisory Group, a team specialising in private client, dispute resolution and corporate law, draws together experts with substantial experience in Ogier's key private client locations.

Our Private Wealth team advises trustees, private banks, financial institutions, fiduciaries, family offices and high-net-worth clients and their advisers on the lifecycle of trusts from their establishment and regulatory considerations, to their administration and restructuring. We have in-depth knowledge of trusts and foundations, enabling us to provide flexible and practical guidance on choosing the best structure and jurisdiction for any given client.

Our Dispute Resolution specialists have a strong track record in dealing with contentious issues. Ogier has acted successfully in many of the headline international trust and private client matters in recent years in BVI, Cayman, Guernsey and Jersey.

A differentiating factor of our Trusts Advisory Group is our embedded corporate support to corporate entities underlying trusts and foundations. All three teams work together to provide a seamless service for our clients.

Acting for members of the Qatari Royal Family on will dispute

We acted for members of the Qatari Royal Family regarding a challenge to the validity of the will of the late Sheikh Saoud Mohammed Al Thani. The BVI High Court found in favour of Ogier's clients (two members of the Qatari Royal Family), with The Honourable Justice Ellis recognising the validity of a will made orally before a Sharia court.

This decision is significant given the protection the precedent affords for other Middle Eastern private wealth structures involving BVI companies.

Acting in one of the largest trust restructurings in Cayman

Ogier is acting for an institutional trustee, and working alongside the family office, in one of the largest trust restructurings in the Cayman Islands. It involves the restructuring of multiple trusts, with some requiring variation of trusts applications before the Grand Court in a mixture of Cayman charitable STAR trusts, and discretionary trusts.

The trusts were settled by an UHNW individual, now deceased. The case involved the first application in the Cayman Islands to reform a STAR trust and was the first to consider the cy-près doctrine in this context.

The application was successful in a court hearing in October 2020. The subsequent restructuring flowing from the court order is still occurring and now involves a complicated transfer of all the trust structures to two new service providers.

Advising in relation to the transfer of a private bank's trust company business

Ogier has advised a global private bank in relation to the winding down of its business in Guernsey and the transfer of clients to its other offices. To enable the bank to meet its project goals effectively and efficiently, Ogier's cross-disciplinary team came up with innovative solutions for each of the private bank's clients.

The project included working closely with the bank's key stakeholders, as the Ogier team mapped out and carefully paired each client with the appropriate office.

As part of the process, members of Ogier's Trusts Advisory Group (including both the contentious and non-contentious lawyers) dealt with numerous problematic cases where regulatory and other legal concerns made transferring the structures difficult.
