

At a glance guide to Tax services in Luxembourg

Ogier's Tax lawyers provide accurate, practical and business-oriented tax expertise to support financial institutions, corporations, investment funds, asset managers and UHNW individuals.

Our experienced experts ensure that our clients stay informed and compliant with the latest tax laws and regulations, and collaborate with lawyers across our services to provide tailor made solutions, ensuring the commercial objectives of our clients are achieved in the most tax efficient manner.

Tax services

Investment funds structuring

We help to design the optimal tax structure to support your fund's strategy and objectives in terms of investment policy and investor types, advising from the formation phase to the structuring of downstream acquisition structures and profit upstream to ensure tax efficiency and addressing investors' tax issues and requirements at all times.

Banking and finance

We advise on the structuring of complex finance instruments and structures, different forms of partnership, securitisation vehicles, and repackaging products.

Corporate tax

We offer tailored tax advice on a wide range of activities, including M&A, de-mergers, liquidations, transfers of branches, and establishment of joint ventures. In addition to transaction-specific advice, we specialise in inbound/outbound re-domiciliation and migration of companies' tax residence.

Tax litigation

We specialise in tax audit and litigation, providing a full range of services designed to support companies and individuals through the complexities of tax law. Our strategy for handling tax litigation is built around the principles of proactive prevention and strategic resolution.

Private wealth

We provide tax advice and planning services for UHNW individuals, families and family offices, including the structuring of private and professional assets. We help clients to determine the most suitable vehicles for holding private and/or professional assets, including SPFs, regulated and unregulated private funds, private holding companies and partnerships.

We provide tailor made solutions, ensuring the commercial objectives of our clients are achieved in the most tax efficient manner.
